Vw Tools have been ordered to escort the USS Theodore Roosevelt nuclear aircraft carrier — the first time a carrier strike group and a carrier task force have been deployed together in combat in more than two decades. The deployment, from the eastern Indian Ocean, is part of an exercise called Exercise Cobra Gold. The war games include more than a dozen ships, submarines and aircraft from the US, Australia, Malaysia, India, Singapore, Japan, France, South Korea, the Philippines, and the United Arab Emirates, according to the Navy. One thing is for certain: The American warship will carry roughly a dozen Tomahawk cruise missiles. "The U.S. Navy's largest tactical surface combatant force since the early 1990s, Roosevelt's strike group includes the aircraft carriers Nimitz, Carl Vinson and USS George Washington and a group of destroyers and cruisers. The carrier group also includes an escort submarine," the Navy said in a statement
