"when I leave this is what's going to happen".

The teacher said: "Someone has recorded a prank video on their phone while taking a class - threatening to hurt or eat a fellow class member.

"We are working together with Scottish Police and Child Protection to bring those responsible for this serious offence to justice." 'Is it a joke?'

The teacher claims a member of the public reported the video which was filmed on 30 September in a primary school classroom. It shows a young boy saying "when I leave this is what's going to happen". During the video a number of other students can be heard laughing and jeering at the boy. The teacher has refused to release any details about the video to the media because of the age of the pupils involved, but said a number of incidents involving mobile phone use have been
