Welcome to the first video of the next 4 episodes of the "Ultimate Crypto Project" series. These episodes have been prepared by me @CodyCooper_, and hopefully you'll enjoy them as much as I enjoyed making them. This series is a bit different to any of my other videos. In my other videos I usually talk about what I've been doing with Cryptocurrencies on a day-to-day basis. That's not the case with this series, I've talked to many different people about Crypto, and I found a lot of interesting facts and stories. These stories usually aren't covered on mainstream media, so I decided to make a video series to show you some of this information. And not only that, I'm gonna try my best to make a whole series about Cryptocurrencies. A whole "Ultimate Crypto Project" series. In this first video I talked to @FarhadSalari about the story behind the Ultimate Crypto Project. Then I talked about "The Mind of Satoshi Nakamoto". I tried to make this as clear as possible, so I hope you enjoy the first part of the series. Let me know what you think and don't forget to like and subscribe :) . . . #FarhadSalari #Bitcoin #Cryptocurrency #Crypto #Ethereum #BitcoinCash #Litecoin #crypto #blockchain #cryptocoinsnews #cryptoinno #cryptomessenger #cryptocurrencynews #

Spoiler Alert: To put it simple, I think it's a really fun game, and I would love to play it, but I'm too scared to play it haha, If I played it I feel like the world would vanish at the moment I think to myself "This world is going to end, this world is going to end." Do emergency physicians code data properly? Recent reports from other disciplines suggest that in order to collect accurate computerized data, information must be coded accurately. We performed a computerized audit of telephone activity generated by an emergency department to determine the ability of emergency physicians to correctly code data on a monthly basis. A random sample of twenty-six randomly chosen charts was reviewed. All charts randomly reviewed were found to have telephone entries in the correct date and time. The other information (patient's address, hospital number, operator/provider, and nursing unit) was encoded properly in all but 1/26 charts audited. Encoding information beyond the minimum necessary to obtain appropriate hospital statistical reports appears to be often a common error among emergency physicians. This data could be used in the future to identify those emergency department providers who are more likely to have consistent data collection. New Docs Demand More on Trans Service for Kids Facing a flood of litigation and stalled legal settlements, the transportation industry has launched a major campaign — including a barrage of new docs — to demonstrate its commitment to help children who are transgender and other forms of diversity.
