For instance, the client ask for /rest/projects//users If the project is valid, then he should be redirected to this endpoint /rest/projects//users/{id} If the project isn't valid, he should be redirected to this one /rest/projects//users/missing-value-in-params But I can't manage to do this. What are the ways I can accomplish this? Note that I don't want to throw a 404 if the project isn't valid, I want to simply redirect to the same endpoint, but with a different message. A: You can achieve that kind of redirect by setting error_reporting to E_ALL and display_errors to on. This will display all errors including things like HTTP headers having 404 instead of 200 etc and it will create a file called Errors/404.php If you want to limit errors to specific ones, use: error_reporting(E_WARNING|E_NOTICE); display_errors('log'); Where log is the error that you want to catch. Charminar (Delhi) The Charminar is a mosque and minaret in Chandni Chowk, Delhi, the former capital of the Mughal empire. The word charminar is derived from the Persian word charvān, meaning "a fountain of water". The minaret has a square plan with rounded corners and a square shape. It is 50 ft high. Location The mosque is located in a corner of Chandni Chowk, Delhi, which was called Chandni Chowk "Central Market" in the 17th century. It is generally known as the old bazaar market of Delhi. Delhi went through two major shifts in the first half of the 18th century, followed by a third shift in the 19th. During 1751–1858 the capital was moved to Delhi from Agra, and Chand
