I want to convert the above list to: 1. DAT File (Using Excel) 2. Comma Separated values (csv) 3. Database File (MS SQL) I have used VLOOKUP function in excel as the code below. It did not work for me. =VLOOKUP($A1,$A$1:$E$10,2) I am new to SQL queries, so the database file is fine for me. I prefer to do it using SQL query, like the below, but stuck in the error. Do let me know if there's any other approach. I will keep updating. insert into table (col1, col2, col3, col4) values (substitute(col1), col2, col3, col4) I have tried replace (), concat, concat_ws (,) and concat_ws (,) but without success. But I am aware of the below: SELECT * INTO OUTFILE 'filename' FROM tablename; which gave me the file with certain columns having delimiter and others columns having with values. A: This worked fine for me. Insert into table (Col1, Col2, Col3, Col4) values ('value1', 'value2', 'value3', 'value4') What you want to make sure is that you have not only \r for separating the columns or values. Also make sure that you are using a select statement that has not an inner join. Or if you want to use inner join make sure the field in the inner join is in the select statement.
